-Aquarium tanks are made self-ustaining by the introduction of just the right amount of plant life, by which the water is aerated and kept sweet for a considerable time, even in such small bodies. Ulva, or sea letluce, a beautiful green plant, is often used for this purpose. When it is un-disturbed air collects under the ulvaand buoys it up. Fishes and crabs tear holes in it, making it less buoyant, so that it is apt to sink. In aquarium practice this destruction of the ulva is n some measure prevented by the simple expedient of placing corks under it to keep it out of reach of at least some of the crabs, as, for instance, the hermit, that might otherwise climb

Confinement and Hard Work Hoping I would ever be better, I had suffered so much from sour stomach, kidney troubles, and other allments. But Hood's Sarsaparills was the means of saving my life. After taking it I was strong and muscular, gained 14 lbs. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who long for health and strength."

Nicholas Schiemer, Summerdale, Ill.

Confinement and Hard Work Indoor, particularly in the sitting posture, are far more prejudicial to health than excessive muscular exertion in the open air. Hard sedentary workers are far too weary after office hours to take much needful exercise in the open air. They often need a tonic. Where can they seek invigoration more certainly and thoroughly than from Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a renovant particularly adapted to recruit the exhausted force of nature. Use also for dyspepsia, kidney, liver and rheumatic ailments.

CHEAP GREENHOUSE. How to Add a Plant Boom to the Ordinary

If it were understood how easily, and at how little expense, a plant room can be added to an ordinary farm or village house, there would certainly be more of these useful and pleasure-giv-ing adjuncts to country and suburban flomes. The illustration gives a suggestion of a very neat and simple addition that will let in enough sunlight, even though the roof be of shingles instead of glass, to keep plants growing thriftily all winter and to start a large assortment of plants for the kitchen garden, which will bring vegetables upon the table at least a month earlier than is now the case. In cold climates the season for garden growth is too short to give us the full benefit of fruits and vegetables. A sunny room like that figured here will very materially lengthen the season, and with a succession of plantings after the weather becomes warm will make the garden a joy throughout the whole summer. If desired, such an addition can have the roof of glass also, which will force plants along still faster, but this is not necessary, and will increase the cost of building and of heating. With a southern exposure and windows about three sides, as shown in the sketch, very excellent results may be obtained. An oil stove may be used for heating; or a hot water pipe, or a hot air flue from the furnace or boiler, if one is used for heating the house, may be carried into the plant room. Build tight to keep the wind out, and heating will be a comparatively easy matter, Orange Judd Farmer.

NEW ROAD MATERIAL.

Refuse Molasses Used with Considerable Success in Utah.

The Utah Sugar company has begun novel use for the waste product from the works at Lehi, known as by-product, or molasses. Roads are actually being constructed with the sirups, which ore valueless as sugar producers, the life having been extracted. The molasses is used as a cement, the body of the road material being made up of gravel. This new method was first used on the road leading-from the country road to the sugar factory, and the travel over this thoroughfare since the opening of the sugar season has demonstrated the value of the sirups and gravel as materials for the improvement of roads. The piece of road that has been so improved is as hard as macadam, and even the heaviest loaded wagons do not cut it up. The sirups are first poured over the roadway to be improved, and then a layer of gravel is sprinkled on. More sirup and gravel follow in their turn, until the road is in perfect condition. There seems to be just sufficient potash salts in the molasses to give it the necessary cementing qualities.

This making of roads and walks with refuse sirups from sugar factories bas also been successfully tried in California. It is not at all unlikely that at the end of the present season the company will make more improvements on the roads leading to the factory. At first the molasses showed a tendency to ooze up through the gravel, but the application of an extra coating of gravel remedied this and made the road as smooth as a floor and as hard as pavement .- Salt Lake Herald.

WHAT DESTROYS STREETS.

To Carry Heavy Loads on Small-Tired Wagons is Almost Criminal. Without doubt the heavy carting and drayage of modern times have much to do with the perishableness of modern pavements. The hardest rock itself cannot long withstand the continuous grind of heavy loads supported upon narrow tires. To this foolish and destructive fashion of building carts and drays designed for the transportation of great weights the bulk of failure modern pavements is due. It must be remembered that the celebrated roads of antiquity were never subjected to similar tests, and that the smaller the surface called upon to sustain great weight the less naturally will be the resistive power offered, and the greater will be the pressure upon the point of contact.

If anyone will take the trouble to escertain the weight of an average load whose like is hauled by hundreds through our chief cities daily, measure the width of the tire and then figure the pressure per square inch to which e payement is exposed, based upon the fraction of a circle, which touches a straight line, we will have a betteridea of what road builders of the present day have to contend with. This width of cartwheels and tires should be regulated by law with a view to municipal economy, and each commonwealth should endeavor by legislation to enforce honesty in laying of foundations for every foot of pavement-used.-Lip pincott's Magazine.

Grace before Meat.

There's a difference between being full of thanksgiving, and being full of Thanksgiving dainties. But the one thing generally leads to the other. How can it be helped when the turkey is so good, and the pie so enticing? Here's a helpful hint. For that full feeling after Thanksgiving - take a pill. Not any pill, mind you. There are pills that won't help you. Take the pill that will. It's known as Ayer's Pill - and it's perfect. It is sugar-coated, pleasant to the palate, and its operation, like that of nature, is effective and without violence. Keep this in your mind if you want to enjoy the holiday season: Grace before meat, but a Pill after Pie.
